

"What is Truth?" by Nikolai Ghe, 1890. Oil on canvas

"I am the Way; I am Truth and Life."

Materials Needed:

Find one or more of the following suggestions:

Flowers

Leaves

Pinecones

Twigs or branches

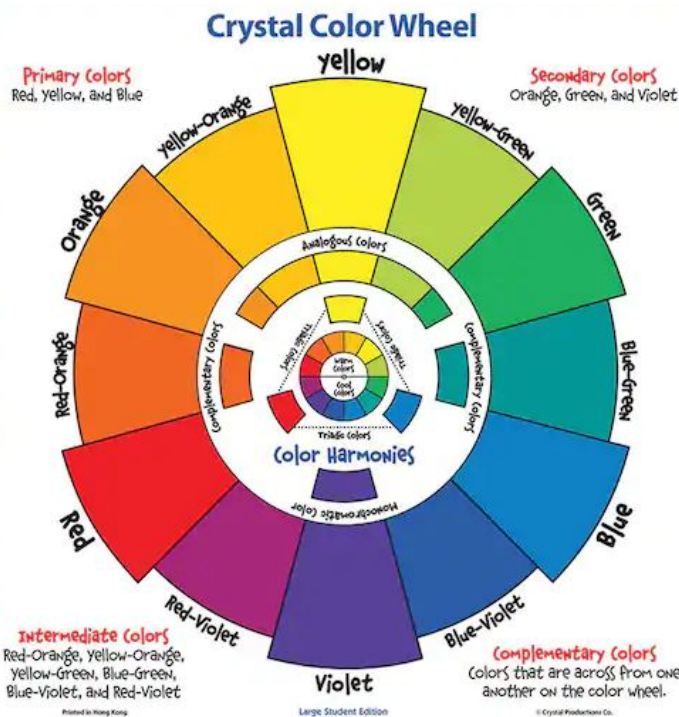

Stones

Summary: British artist, Andy Goldsworthy, is an excellent example of an artist who is not only inspired by nature but creates art using natural materials. His land art sculptures are intentionally temporary and left in their environment. He uses different examples of radial, symmetrical, and asymmetrical balance in his artwork*. Also, he uses contrasting colors or values to lead the eye around the artwork.

Directions: Find as many of the similar objects at least 40 to 50 and create a spiral. As you make your spiral, see if you can follow a pattern like dark to light, large to small, or rough to smooth. You can also look at the next page to see different kinds of balance that you can try to use.

Consider that this artwork might not last but eventually will return back to nature scattered. But our Lord, who is Life, will one day make all things new and eternally alive. Even now He is making you new and filled with His Life with purpose, design, meaning, and vibrancy.

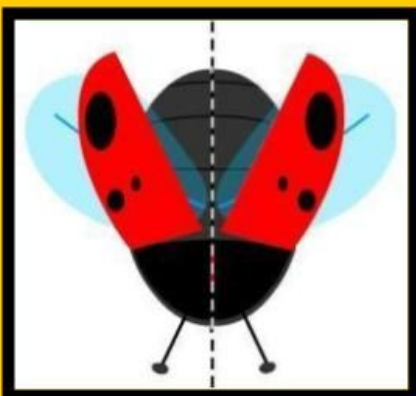

*

Balance

Balance refers to the way lines, shapes, colors, and textures are arranged in a piece of art.

Line Symmetry

Radial Symmetry

Asymmetrical Balance

